

Positive About Communication

This course is a springboard to a positive understanding of the speech, language and communication needs of people with autism.

Our training is active, visual and fun. We don't use ten words where two will do. We're positive about autism and that's reflected in the style and content of our workshops and events. We believe in learning that's fun, enlightening and enabling. We explain autism and equip practitioners with some tools they can use right away.

This active and engaging one day training course will explore the building blocks of effective communication. It will examine the communication differences and preferences in autism. The event will cover visual communication strategies and the importance of structure.

The event will equip you with an overview of tools and techniques that will maximise communication with children, young people and adults with autism. The event makes use of case studies, discussion, video and a host of learning techniques that will transform your understanding and practice in relation to autism and communication.

If you work in education, healthcare, social care, supported living then...
